Saxene[®]_{eco} Polypropylen Compounds

PCW GmbH is your specialist for innovative and application-oriented plastic compounds with worldwide delivery options. Saxene[®] eco compounds, with their tailor-made properties, meet these new product standards, taking into account IATF 16949 and many other automotive standards.

With Saxene Eco safely into the future of the automotive industry.

The topics of sustainability and resource conservation are very important to us. Legislation is increasingly calling for measures to promote the use of recyclates in sophisticated plastics solutions.

Ecological lightweight construction concepts for electromobility.

Our near-to-prime properties for sophisticated components and a reduced Co2 footprint contribute to a positive eco-balance and promote the circular economy; furthermore, our low-emission PP compounds are, among other things, heat-ageing stable, odourless and process-safe.
